

GCC Math Collaborative presents
Teacher 2 Teacher Workshop
Technology in the Classroom in the Age of Facebook and Twitter
Tom Voden and Jeremy Talaoc

This interactive half-day session will fuse technologies, social networks and mathematics to create a product that is more engaging to today's learners. The potential for rapid information sharing provided by today's technologies provokes interesting pedagogical questions about modern learning communities, student-generated content and the teacher's role in the learning process.
