

Combining Moodle Courses into One Section (Unavailable for online and hybrid classes)

“All Sections” course shells are provided for faculty who are teaching on-site web enhanced courses (only) that would like to combine their course materials into one Moodle course shell. You will see your same section courses with a ticket number, and the same section one labeled “All sections” with no ticket number (see below). All your students that are enrolled into the same course sections that you offer will also be loaded into the “All Sections” course. This means if you choose to use the “All Sections” Moodle course shell, your student’s grades will be merged in the “All Sections” course shell gradebook. If you use the “All Sections” single course shell for your same section courses, it is advised that you hide the corresponding courses that have the ticket number so that your students don’t get confused.
