AICCU PRESIDENT'S LETTER

Dear Guidance Counselors, Students, and Parents:

Education is the passport to success. The Association of Independent California Colleges and Universities (AICCU), which represents 78 private colleges and universities with over 215 campuses throughout the state of California, is committed to preparing students for that success, both academically and professionally.

The 48th Edition of the Guide to California Private Nonprofit Colleges and Universities highlights each of our successful California colleges and universities. Students should use this guide to explore their options and identify the institutions that best fit their educational goals. After narrowing their search, students and their families are encouraged to take campus tours, talk to students and professors, and even sit in on a class.

In addition, CaliforniaColleges.edu has helpful information for students and families as they plan and prepare for their college experience.

AICCU institutions include world-famous research and traditional liberal arts colleges and universities, as well as professional institutions specializing in business, law, and medicine. Our member colleges and universities confer more than half of California's Masters and Doctorate degrees, making them a leader in preparing our professional workforce.

We are very proud of our commitment towards a global education, enriched by a diverse faculty and student body, and built on academic strengths. This has allowed us to emerge as a pioneer in developing future leaders who will address the challenges of our changing world with ethics and compassion.

AICCU Institutions are:

- Affordable: 72% of AICCU students receive some form of financial aid
- Diverse: AICCU's ethnically diverse campuses enrich learning environment
- Committed to Students: AICCU institutions average one faculty member for every 12 students
- Successful: one-on-one learning environment helps students graduate faster, with less student loan debt, and be more prepared for employment

Interdisciplinary collaboration helps our faculty and students address the challenging problems of the 21st century, while creating "real world" learning platforms for broad-based innovation and dynamic creativity. Our students are encouraged to question and expand their knowledge in the classroom and extend that learning through research, community engagement, and global education.

Selecting the right college or university is one of the most important decisions a student will ever make and I am pleased to provide this resource to assist you in your journey.

Best wishes with your search!
Kristen F. Soares
President

As the only remaining Reformed college on the West Coast, Providence Christian College provides an education based in a deep conviction to God's word within a community of believers. Here, faith is an integral and essential component of the education – in every subject. We call it Faith Guided Learning™ because the Scriptures give purpose and freedom to learning. A Providence education does this with a rigorous emphasis on both experiential and classroom learning, in a small college environment, paired with immersion experiences in the arts, sciences, and culture of Los Angeles through our flagship Avodah Experiential Learning program.

Thomas Aquinas College believes that to learn is to discover and grow in the truth about reality. This curriculum presents the arts and sciences of liberal education as a comprehensive whole. The four-year interdisciplinary course of study makes use of the original writings of the great philosophers, historians, mathematicians, poets, scientists, and theologians of the West. The curriculum is a sustained conversation in the form of tutorials, seminars, and laboratories guided by tutors who assist students in the work of reading, analyzing, and evaluating these great books. Students develop the lost tools of inquiry, argument, and translation.
