NEW COURSE / FALL 2019
SOCIOLOGY 108
MEN AND MASCULINITY

WITH JC MOORE DEPARTMENT OF SOCIOLOGY

WHY MEN'S STUDY NOW? ARE WE IN A MASCULINITY CRISIS?
HOW MUCH DO WE KNOW ABOUT MEN? WHAT MAKES A MAN?
WHAT ARE THE CHALLENGES MEN FACE TODAY?
WHAT CAN WE DO TO ELIMINATE SYSTEMIC SEXISM?

This course introduces the students to the field of Masculinity by examining the socialization and general experience of boys and men. It explores the social construction of Masculinity in sports, family, work, and other social relationships to show how it affects people, institutions and society. Further, this course examines the intersection of race, ethnicity, class, occupation, and education.
