ACCOMMODATIONS

Absent undue hardship or direct threats to the health and safety of employee(s), the District provides employment-related reasonable accommodations to:

- qualified individuals with disabilities, both applicants and employees, to enable them to perform essential job functions;
- employees with conditions related to pregnancy, childbirth, or a related medical condition, if she so requests, and with the advice of her health care provider;
- employee victims of domestic violence, sexual assault, or stalking to promote the safety of the employee victim while at work; and
- employees who request lactation accommodation

Accommodations for Disabilities:

The District has an affirmative duty to provide reasonable accommodations to applicants or employees with disabilities unless the timely, good faith interactive process reveals that there is no reasonable accommodation that will allow the applicant or employee to perform essential job functions without causing the District undue hardship or without presenting a direct threat to the health and safety of himself/herself/themself or others.

The District shall request reasonable documentation confirming the existence of a disability, the need for a reasonable accommodation, and the functional limitations or work restrictions that apply to the employee's ability to perform the essential functions of the job. If an employee or applicant provides documentation that does not confirm the existence of a disability, the need for a reasonable accommodation, or his/her/their functional limitations in performing essential job functions, then the District will explain why the documentation is insufficient and allow the applicant or employee to provide a timely supplement.

Accommodations for Pregnancy and Related Medical Conditions:

The District must provide an interactive process to assess reasonable accommodations, in addition to leave rights, to employees disabled by pregnancy and related medical conditions.

Accommodations for Victims of Domestic Violence, Sexual Assault, or Stalking:

The District has an affirmative duty to provide reasonable accommodations to employee-victims of domestic violence, sexual assault, or stalking, that would protect the safety of the employee-victim while at work. The District endeavors to identify safety-related accommodations that do not cause undue hardship and that do not compromise the safety and health of all employees.

The District may require a victim of domestic violence, sexual assault, or stalking and who requests an accommodation to provide for his/her/their safety at work, to provide a written statement regarding the need for the accommodation, and a certification of his/her/their status as a victim of domestic violence, sexual assault, or stalking. In addition, the District may request recertification of the documentation every six months. If circumstances change and the employee needs a new accommodation, the employer must restart the certification and interactive process.

Lactation Accommodations:

Employees have the right to request lactation accommodation, and should make the request to their immediate supervisor. The immediate supervisor will respond to the request.

An overtime-eligible employee who wishes to express breast milk for her infant child during her scheduled work hours will receive additional unpaid time beyond the 15-minute compensated rest period. Breaks may be reasonably delayed if they would seriously disrupt operations. Once a lactation break has been approved, the break should not be interrupted except for emergency or exigent circumstances.

The District will make reasonable efforts to accommodate employees by providing an appropriate location to express milk in private. The District will attempt to find a location in close proximity to the employee's work area, and the location will be other than a bathroom. The location shall contain a surface to place a breast pump and personal items, a place to sit, and have access to electricity or alternative devices, including, but not limited to, extension cords or charging stations, needed to operate an electric or battery-powered breast pump. Access to a sink with running water and a refrigerator or other suitable cooling device suitable for storing milk in close proximity to the employee's workspace will also be provided.

Employees occupying such private areas shall either secure the door or otherwise make it clear to others through signage that the area is occupied and should not be disturbed. All other employees should avoid interrupting an employee during an authorized break under this section, except to announce an emergency or other urgent circumstance.
