INFORMATIONAL REPORT NO. 1

TO: Board of Trustees

SUBMITTED BY: Ryan Cornner, Superintendent/President

SUBJECT: ENROLLMENT UPDATE

DESCRIPTION OF HISTORY / BACKGROUND

California community colleges' apportionment revenues from the state are based on the enrollments of resident students. Enrollments are converted into Full-Time Equivalent Students (FTES) numbers for apportionment reporting. The attached report includes updated enrollment numbers and projections.

One FTES, whether credit or noncredit, is defined by state regulations as 525 hours of student contact. Most credit courses use a weekly accounting method: They meet the same number of hours every week, and apportionment is based on a calculation of hours per week times number of weeks divided by 525. Credit courses shorter than a full semester (such as 8-week courses, or Summer and Winter courses) use an analogous daily accounting method. Both weekly and daily courses use a census date to determine enrollments and FTES.

All noncredit courses and a small number of credit courses use positive attendance accounting, which is not based on enrollment and class sessions per week but rather on the actual hours that students attend class. Each student's attendance is tracked for every class session. The total number of attendance hours is divided by 525 to calculate FTES based on positive attendance. FTES based on positive attendance is more difficult to project than FTES based on weekly or daily accounting because students' actual attendance must be tracked every day, rather than using a defined census date.

Due to the COVID-19 emergency, the Chancellor's Office has approved alternative positive attendance methods for classes held through distance education. The table included her shows actual FTES rather than FTES calculated by this method.

BUSINESS CHALLENGE - Background

Communities of color and of low-income are often disproportionately affected by the consequences of a changing climate. For example, Latinos are twice as likely to live in areas most threatened by wildfires relative to the overall U.S. population. This is further impaired by lower voter turnout from these groups at local elections, which can lead to biased outcomes in how municipal decisions are made.

The City of Glendale is currently developing a Climate Action and Adaptation Plan to help guide its sustainability goals of reaching carbon neutrality by the year 2050 or sooner. Glendale recognizes the history of underrepresentation in climate efforts and wants to make their plan as equitable as possible.

BUSINESS CHALLENGE

How might the City of Glendale encourage underrepresented voices to engage in and remain engaged in its sustainability initiatives?

6 Key Problems

Communities of color are affected more by a changing climate

Glendale wants an equitable approach to addressing climate challenges

“Going green” can be expensive and out of reach for some communities

“Sustainability” means different things to different people

Communities of color have lower voter turnout

Climate policy might overlook communities that aren't politically engaged

Plans for the Future

- Two Team Internships in Fall 2022
  - One specific to STEM
  - One general internship
- Exploring possibility of offering the Team Internship within a course for a more sustainable and scalable program
- Offer varying themes specific to different LPPs from session to session

Next Steps

- Recruiting new business partners
  - We need your help!
- Adding more faculty coaches to build a team at scale
- New website
- Peer coaches
- Recruiting student interns for fall

Drake Hawkins was a pillar in the history and development of Glendale Community College. In addition to serving as Professor of Political Science from 1970 to 2001, Drake had many campus-wide impacts. He was instrumental in helping the college separate from the Glendale Unified School District, and in the establishment of our own union, the Glendale College Guild. Drake also served as Division Chair for Social Sciences from 1985 to 2001. In 1999, he was awarded the William L. Parker Award for institutional service. Over the course of his 31-year career, Drake impacted the lives of countless students and employees. Drake's legacy of helping to build a college where faculty voices are celebrated and respected as an integral part of governance cannot be ignored. Drake was 80 years old when he passed away.
